CONVERSION
~50% take worker

Three steps. Zero sales pitch.

The audit is paid work, not a free consultation dressed as one. The PDF stands on its own. You do not have to take the worker.

STEP 01

The call

45 minutes. You, the owner, and Tyson. No slides. No deck. You talk about the business. We record with your permission.

STEP 02

The PDF

6-8 pages. Written in your numbers, your sector, your team. Each bottleneck gets one page. 48 hours after the call.

STEP 03

The walkthrough

15 minutes. You ask questions. We answer honestly. If the audit says the worker is the wrong fit, we say so.

REFUND PROMISE

50% CONVERT TO WORKER

50% KEEP THE PDF

If the PDF finds no bottlenecks that match your business, we refund the £999 in full. We have done this once. About half of audit clients later take the £5,000/mo worker. The other half use the PDF to fix the bottlenecks themselves. Both outcomes are welcome.

What we found in your business.

Sample: Acme Plumbing Ltd, Bath. 8 staff. £1.4m revenue. Real numbers, real sector, real bottlenecks. (The name is changed; the pattern is the same across UK trades.)

ESTIMATED TOTAL LOST

SUMMARY ACME PLUMBING LTD

£11.7-20.5k/mo

£140-246K/YR

Enquiries answered late, or not at all.

The problem

A lead fills the website form at 10pm. The owner sees the email at 8am the next morning. By then, the lead has called two competitors. Acme loses 4-6 of these after-hours enquiries a week, mostly because the owner has stopped checking email in the evening.

The evidence

MIT/InsideSales: 78% of buyers hire the first responder.
Clio Legal Trends 2024: 35% of UK law firm intake calls go unanswered.
For Acme's £5k average job, every missed after-hours enquiry is roughly £1,200 of revenue that went to a competitor.

COST PER MONTH

£4-8k

Estimated lost revenue from un-responded after-hours enquiries.
Conservative end assumes 4 incidents/week at £1,200 each.
Aggressive end assumes 6 incidents plus partial losses from the morning back-log.

CONFIDENCE: HIGH

4-6 INCIDENTS / WEEK

Quote follow-up done by hand, slipping through the cracks.

The problem

Seven quotes went out from Acme in the last 30 days. Three were chased within 48 hours. Four sat in the inbox until the buyer replied themselves (1 sale) or went cold (3 lost). The owner knows follow-up matters. The owner also has 47 other things on a Monday.

The evidence

InsideSales: a structured 5-touch follow-up sequence lifts conversion 30-50% on warm quotes.

Acme's own CRM shows 4 of 7 quotes had no second contact. Lost jobs were £3.5k, £4.2k, £6.8k, £2.9k. £17.4k of quoted work that did not close, almost certainly because of no follow-up, not price.

COST PER MONTH

£3-6k

Estimated lost revenue from unchased quotes. Conservative: 1 lost job/month at the £3.5k floor. Aggressive: 1-2 lost jobs/month at the £4-6k range. The CRM data is the source - we read the quote log together on the call.

CONFIDENCE: HIGH

One-time. One 45-minute call. A 6-8 page PDF in 48 hours. A 15-minute walkthrough. Yours to keep, share, act on. No follow-up emails. No upsell sequence. Refund if the PDF finds no bottlenecks.

THE WORKER (IF YOU TAKE IT)

£5,000 /mo

What we recommend.

OPTION A - TAKE THE WORKER

The Twinthos worker, on the bottlenecks we found.

- Live in 48 hours after sign-off
- Worker attacks bottlenecks 1, 2, 3 in priority order
- You keep bottlenecks 4 and 5 for a junior hire or VA
- 7-day no-pay guarantee: if it does not work, you do not pay
- £5,000/mo flat, all-in, no setup fee

EXPECTED PAYBACK: < 1 MONTH

OPTION B - KEEP THE PDF

Use the audit. Hire a VA. Do nothing this month.

- PDF is yours. Share with your accountant, team, co-founder
- Hire a junior at £28k to handle follow-up and admin
- You will recover roughly half the lost revenue
- You will pay the full salary + NICs + pension + holiday cover
- No obligation to come back to Twinthos, ever

EXPECTED PAYBACK: 3-6 MONTHS

Our honest read: For Acme at £1.4m revenue with the bottlenecks we found, the worker pays back faster than a hire, runs 24/7, and does not quit. Option A is the right call. But you know the business. If you would rather start with a VA and see if you can self-execute, that is also a fine answer - the audit was paid for, the PDF is yours, and we will not chase.
