The next door. 128 firms in sixteen plain trades.

Most of the last list was hard to sell. This one starts with firms where you can explain the job in one sentence, the owner decides alone, and they already pay somebody to do it.

Read this first

THE ONE LINE

You are not selling AI. You are selling one finished job, on a date, for less than the person doing it now.

The last list was good research and a hard sell. Every firm on it has admin. Every one has also been pitched AI three times this year, so the call starts in a crowded room.

This book starts somewhere else.

It looks for firms that get paid per completed piece of work — per claim, per case, per renewal, per placement, per funding claim. In those firms, admin capacity is the ceiling on revenue. Slow admin means money that never arrives.

That changes what you are to the person on the phone. You are not the consultant asking them to shrink their own team. You are more capacity in a business that is paid by the unit. That is a promotion, not a threat.

Three things follow from it:

- The first step gets small. One job, two weeks, a fixed fee. One person can say yes.
- The pitch gets short. “You bill per claim. Your team can process this many a week. This makes it that many.”
- The monthly number arrives after a result, not before one.

The rest of this book is the list, the words, and the order to call in.

WHAT IS IN HERE	HOW MANY
WHAT IS IN HERE	HOW MANY
Firms in the eight simple trades	64

WHAT IS IN HERE	HOW MANY
Firms in the eight harder trades	64
Firms outside the UK	18
Organisations that could buy the company	12
People and funds who could back it	12
Firms with a named person	80

Why the last book stalls

Three reasons. Each one has a fix, and the fix is why this list is different.

1. You ask them to shrink their own team

The person who owns the admin queue is the person whose team gets smaller. Nobody gets promoted for that. They say “interesting” and nothing happens.

Fix: pick firms where more throughput means more revenue. Then the queue getting faster is their win, and they will fight for it internally.

2. The price needs a second signature

At £60,000 a year, an owner-managed firm has to discuss it. A discussion is a delay, and delays die.

Fix: make the first step one person’s decision. One job, two weeks, £3,500. The monthly fee is a separate conversation held after the thing has already worked.

3. Nothing has a date on it

“Would you like this?” has no deadline. A diary with no date in it is a wish.

Fix: only call firms that already have a date. A renewal, a funding return, an audit, a claim window, a go-live.

The five-minute test

Answer all five before you dial. If you cannot, do not dial.

#	QUESTION	WHY IT MATTERS
1	What do they get paid for?	Per-unit firms have a reason to say yes
2	How many units a month?	This is the size of the prize, in their language
3	Who signs without asking anyone?	The name on the call sheet
4	What date forces it?	The reason the call happens this month
5	Can it run without patient data?	Keeps you out of the regulated queue

A firm that passes all five is worth an hour. A firm that passes three is worth an email. A firm that passes two is a bookmark.

Part one — the eight simple trades

These are the ones to call first. In each of them the job is obvious, the owner decides alone, and nobody has to check with a compliance officer.

They also score higher than the harder trades on the one thing that matters this month: you can explain the job in a single sentence, and the person on the phone already knows they pay someone to do it.

Food and drink wholesalers

Orders arrive by phone, email and WhatsApp all morning. Someone retypes them into the order system. Miss one and you lose the sale. Take it wrong and you lose the customer.

Every distributor has a person doing this. They all know it is the job. That makes the conversation short.

Castell Howell Foods

‘900 + employees’ across six depots, stated on the company’s own About page.
Call: Matt Lewis, Managing Director
Job: Retyping phone, email and WhatsApp orders into the order system before each day’s cut-off.
Why now: Opened a 14,000 sq ft Merthyr Tydfil depot on 10 February 2026 to add capacity between Cross Hands and Avonmouth.

Lynas Foodservice

‘already employs more than 600 staff’ and supplies 5,000+ customers, per trade press report.
Call: Andrew Lynas, Managing Director
Job: Keying phone and email orders from restaurants, pubs and schools into the ordering system every morning.
Why now: Acquired Edinburgh-based wholesaler JB Foods on 9 December 2025, adding Scottish orders and warehousing to its network.

Dunsters Farm

LinkedIn lists 51-200 employees for the family-run wholesaler, founded 1963.

Call: Hannah Barlow, Managing Director

Job: Taking orders by phone and email from schools, care homes and cafes and typing them into the system.

Why now: Bought Preston fresh-produce wholesaler Ralph Livesey in 2025 and is still merging both order books and a new Preston depot.

Woods Foodservice

119 employees in the 2025 accounts filed at Companies House, up from 115 in 2024.

Call: Darren Labbett, Managing Director

Job: Retyping restaurant and hotel orders that arrive by phone and email into the order system.

Why now: Acquired Michelin-star supplier John Mower & Co on 14 February 2026, taking its customer base past 3,000 accounts.

Harlech Foodservice

‘now employs 320 people’, with workforce expected to reach 370, per North Wales Chronicle.

Call: Mark Lawton, Managing Director

Job: Writing up phone and email orders from pubs, schools and hospitals onto the day’s delivery sheets.

Why now: On 18 July 2026 announced 50 new jobs, new Caerphilly and Telford depots and a £3.5m Llanystumdwy upgrade.

Savona Foodservice

‘Many of its 220 people are longstanding employees’, per its Country Range Group member profile.
Call: Mike Morgan, Managing Director
Job: Taking orders by phone and WhatsApp from pubs, schools and hotels and re-keying them into the system.
Why now: Opened its expanded 50,000 sq ft London depot on 29 September 2026 after a £3m investment.

Inn Express

‘around 180 staff’ and 28,000 sq ft of warehouse, stated on the company’s own About page.
Call: Richard Hall, CEO
Job: Typing emailed and phoned drinks orders from pubs and bars into the order system each morning.
Why now: Bought the assets of craft beer importer Euroboozer on 23 June 2025, widening the range sold to every account.

Hunt’s Food Group

LinkedIn lists 501-1,000 employees for the fifth-generation family wholesaler.
Call: Thomas Hunt, CEO
Job: Retyping phoned and emailed orders from pubs, cafes and schools into the ordering system.
Why now: Named Regional Wholesaler of the Year on 6 July 2026 after 30% turnover growth and four acquisitions in a year.

Plant and tool hire

A machine goes out on a hire contract and comes back. Someone has to close the contract, check for damage, charge for it and invoice.

Every day a machine sits off-hire and uncollected is money gone. The chase is the job, and the chase is done by hand.

Coppard Plant Hire Ltd

Over 100 employees, five depots and a 400+ excavator fleet (own site).
Call: Keaten Coppard, Director
Job: Chase each machine's off-hire number and add the damage, fuel and transport charges before invoicing.
Why now: On 4 September 2025 Coppard took delivery of a 30m CMC S30 spider lift, a new high-rate hire category.

Fairfax Plant Hire Ltd

Three depots (Selby, Leeds, Hull) and a 40-vehicle transport fleet.
Call: Mark Love, Group Business Director
Job: Match every returned machine to its hire contract and raise damage, fuel and transport charges before invoicing.
Why now: Fairfax's 26 January 2026 review says it invested close to £20m in 2025 and grew the business by £10m.

Star Platforms Ltd

Over 140 employees and seven depots across England, per its own history page.
Call: Richard Miller, Joint Managing Director
Job: Check each platform's off-hire date against its hire agreement, then invoice late days and damage weekly.
Why now: On 20 October 2026 Star added JLG Nano 30CS and Power Tower CS units to its hire fleet, mainly for data-centre work.

G T Access Limited (GTAccess)

180 employees, 11 branches and 3,000 powered access platforms, per its own figures page.

Call: Jonathan Till, Managing Director

Job: Reconcile off-hire reference numbers with hire contracts, then invoice damage cover, transport and late days.

Why now: On 9 July 2026 GTAccess launched GTAccess Robotics, a new division hiring construction robots across the UK.

Miles Hire Limited

Second-generation family firm, several South Wales branches and depots, trading since 2003.

Call: Darren Miles, Director

Job: Turn hire tickets into invoices, chasing off-hire dates, damage charges and missing returns every week.

Why now: In January 2026 Miles Hire announced a trade counter inside Robert Price’s Newport branch, opening 2 February.

Buckhurst Plant Hire Limited

More than 120 staff, five depots and over 3,000 pieces of machinery (own about page).

Call: John Walsh, Managing Director

Job: Chase off-hire confirmations and raise damage, fuel and transport charges on every closed hire contract.

Why now: On 17 September 2025 Buckhurst became the exclusive UK hire and sales partner for the HASDER All-Wolf 8x8 vehicle.

Eagle Plant

30 branches from Bury, Manchester to Redruth, Cornwall.
Call: Nick Barrow, Managing Director
Job: Check off-hire dates for every machine and add damage, fuel and collection charges to the invoice.
Why now: In August 2026 Eagle bought the UK’s first Takeuchi TB3150R, adding to a 600-machine Takeuchi hire fleet.

The Hireman Limited

Independent family tool hirer since 1985, four depots: City, Park Royal, Croydon and Rochester, Kent.
Call: Neil Graham, Managing Director
Job: Match returned tools to their hire tickets and invoice damage, late days and missing items.
Why now: On 28 September 2026 The Hireman added the DeWalt POWERSHIFT range to its hire fleet.

Accident repair centres

Every repair runs the same loop: estimate, insurer approval, parts, photos, invoice, chase the insurer. The insurer pays per repair, so a faster desk means more cars out of the door.

The owner is in the workshop, not in the office. That is the gap you fill.

iRG Repair Group (Innovative Repair Group)

More than 270 staff across 11 repair sites, per lender ThinCats' published client story.

Call: Lee Wallbank, Managing Director

Job: For every repair: check insurer authority, chase outstanding approvals, order parts, update the customer, invoice on completion.

Why now: On 7 October 2026 iRG bought Abergavenny bodyshop Randall Howell & Son, adding a site and eight transferring staff.

P.J. Rhodes Ltd (Rhodes Accident Repair Group)

Own site states five repair centres employing around 90 staff.

Call: Bill Tolmie, Chief Executive Officer (appointed director 13 March 2026)

Job: Log each new repair, chase insurer authority, order parts, take the photos, then raise the invoice.

Why now: Bill Tolmie took over as CEO in January 2026 and was appointed a director at Companies House on 13 March 2026.

Shorade UK

32 employees in Shorade Accident Repair Centre Ltd per 2025 accounts, plus a four-site group including a 30,000 sq ft, 31-bay Cannock site.

Call: Jon Biggins, Managing Director

Job: Chase each insurer authorisation, order parts, book the courtesy car, then invoice when the car is ready.

Why now: Opened Shorade Tonbridge, a Tesla and Jaguar Land Rover approved repair centre, on 20 February 2026.

ECF Accident Repair Group (Eastbourne Coach Finishers Ltd)

Privately held group founded 1957, 11-50 employees, now operating two repair sites.
Call: Stephen Murray, Owner and Managing Director
Job: Check every new claim's authority, chase the insurer, order parts, update the customer, then invoice.
Why now: Completed the purchase of Hastings bodyshop DC Coachworks on 31 March 2026, adding a second site and a new brand set.

1st Choice Accident Repair Centre Ltd

Turnover around £5m with a plan to grow the workforce by a third to more than 50 staff.
Call: Mervyn Ham, Executive Chairman
Job: Chase insurer approvals, order parts, send photos and updates, then invoice each completed repair.
Why now: Closed its second management buyout in eight years and took a £600,000 UKSE investment, announced 29 May 2026, to reach 50+ staff.

The Vella Group

Group reached 20 repair locations after the GB Flint Coachworks deal in April 2026.
Call: Marc Holding, Managing Director
Job: For each repair, chase insurer authority, order parts, update the customer, then invoice on completion.
Why now: Acquired family-run RGM Vehicle Body Repairs on 30 June 2026, continuing an expansion run that took it to 20 sites.

Hilton Coachworks

85 staff and £12.8m turnover, described as the UK's second largest independent single-site bodyshop at acquisition.
Call: Paul Underdown, Managing Director
Job: Chase insurer approvals, order parts, update customers, and invoice each repair the day it is finished.
Why now: Sold to private equity firm Sun European Partners in October 2025, so a new owner is reviewing how 85 staff spend their day.

Newbridge Accident Repair Centre Ltd

Three sites.
Call: Andy Brown, Owner and founder
Job: Chase insurer authorisations, order parts, update the customer, then invoice when the car is collected.
Why now: National Living Wage rose 4.1% to £12.71 an hour on 1 April 2026, lifting the cost of every admin hour.

Commercial cleaning contractors

Every site needs a timesheet, an audit and a monthly invoice. The office manager does all three by hand, between phone calls.

Payroll is their biggest cost, so every hour of admin is a cost they can see on the profit line.

Monthind Clean Limited

Own website says over 800 staff and 250 cleaning clients across the East of England.

Call: Simon Biggs, Director / Partner

Job: Each month: collect site timesheets, check cleaning audits, then raise and send client invoices.

Why now: National Living Wage rose to £12.71 an hour on 1 April 2026, up 4.1%, on a payroll of several hundred cleaners.

Inter County Service Group Ltd

Trade press says the family firm employs more than 400 people.

Call: Keith Nicholson, Founder and director

Job: Every month: gather cleaner hours per site, confirm audits are done, then invoice each client.

Why now: Named Northampton Saints' official cleaning partner for the 2026/27 season on 15 September 2026, adding a stadium to its site list.

Dedman Contract Services Ltd

Own website says over 90 employees.

Call: Derrick Dedman, Managing Director

Job: Each month: collect cleaner hours from sites, run the audit check, then send client invoices.

Why now: National Living Wage rose to £12.71 an hour on 1 April 2026, up 4.1%, on a payroll of 90+ cleaners.

Goldservice Contract Cleaning Ltd

Accounts to 31 March 2025 show 230 average employees, up from 220.
Call: Simon Hamilton, Founder
Job: Every month: pull timesheets per site, check each cleaning audit, then raise client invoices.
Why now: National Living Wage rose to £12.71 an hour on 1 April 2026, up 4.1%, on a payroll of 230 cleaners.

Schools Offices Services Ltd (SOS)

Own website says around 200+ staff.
Call: Richard O'Neill, Founder
Job: Each month: collect school site hours, check cleaning audits, then invoice each school or academy.
Why now: National Living Wage rose to £12.71 an hour on 1 April 2026, up 4.1%, on a payroll of about 210 cleaners.

Rapid Commercial Cleaning Services Ltd (Rapid Clean)

Accounts to 31 March 2026 show 449 average employees, including 43 administrative staff, and turnover of £15.8m.
Call: Paul Claxton, Managing Director and co-founder
Job: Every month: check 450 site timesheets, confirm audits, then issue and chase client invoices.
Why now: Accounts for the year to 31 March 2026, filed in 2026, report turnover up 15.5% to £15.8m.

Mrs Buckét Cleaning Services Ltd

Accounts to 31 December 2025 show 423 average employees, up from 350.

Call: Rachael Flanagan, CEO and founder

Job: Each month: collect cleaner hours per school or site, check audits, then invoice each client.

Why now: Renewed a five-year cleaning contract with Olchfa School, Swansea, announced 31 March 2026, taking school partnerships past 30.

Office Care Limited (OfficeCare)

Own homepage states 350 people employed, cleaning offices, schools, stadiums and healthcare sites.

Call: Martin Booth, Managing Director

Job: Every month: gather cleaner hours per site, check audits, then invoice each client.

Why now: National Living Wage rose to £12.71 an hour on 1 April 2026, up 4.1%, on a payroll of 350 people.

Security guarding companies

Officers work shifts across dozens of sites. Someone builds the rota, chases missed clock-ins, watches licence expiry dates and invoices each site monthly.

One missed licence can lose a contract. That makes this admin a risk item, and risk items get budget.

Ward Security Limited

1,469 average employees and £80.9m turnover in full accounts to 31 Dec 2025.

Call: Ben Draper, Chief Executive Officer

Job: Rebuild each site's monthly rota, chase missed clock-ins and reconcile hours before client invoicing.

Why now: National Living Wage rose to £12.71 an hour on 1 April 2026, lifting pay for 1,469 staff on fixed-price guarding contracts.

Lodge Security Limited

1,357 average employees and £46.2m turnover in accounts to 31 July 2025, up from 918 staff the year before.

Call: Stuart Lodge, Chief Executive Officer

Job: Run rotas and hours checks for newly acquired sites, then invoice each client every month.

Why now: Lodge acquired Brooknight Security Group on 20 February 2026, adding a nationwide guarding business with its own rotas, payroll and client billing.

MAN Commercial Protection Limited

1,174 average employees and £58.7m turnover in latest full accounts filed at Companies House.

Call: Iain McCallister (unverified), Chief Executive Officer

Job: Build weekly rotas for stadium, logistics and static sites, chase missed clock-ins, then bill each client.

Why now: Home Office published final Martyn's Law statutory guidance on 15 April 2026.

Constant Security Services Limited

881 average employees and £24.9m turnover in accounts to 31 Dec 2025.

Call: Sarah Hill, Managing Director

Job: Fill last-minute shift gaps across Yorkshire sites and check every officer's SIA licence is still valid.

Why now: From 1 April 2026 the SIA requires new licence-linked qualifications, and top-up courses are no longer accepted, so new officers take longer to deploy.

Guarding UK Ltd (GUK)

667 average employees and £30.5m turnover in latest full accounts filed at Companies House.

Call: Michelle Smith, Chief Executive Officer

Job: Build monthly rotas for London front-of-house and estate contracts, then reconcile officer hours to invoices.

Why now: The Employment Rights Act 2025 will give zero-hours workers a right to guaranteed hours once it comes into force, so clean shift records become the basis of every offer.

Britsafe Limited

503 average employees and £14.4m turnover in accounts to 31 March 2026.

Call: Gareth Thomas, Managing Director

Job: Chase missed clock-ins on retail and construction sites, then assemble the monthly client invoice pack.

Why now: The SIA stopped accepting top-up qualifications on 1 April 2026, so licence renewals now need full courses and officers are off site longer.

Unitrust Protection Services (U.K.) Limited

499 average employees and £20.8m turnover in latest full accounts.
Call: Scott Gough, Managing Director
Job: Cover officer absences across London contracts and update each site's rota before payroll cut-off.
Why now: National Living Wage rose to £12.71 an hour on 1 April 2026, raising the cost of every guarding hour sold on fixed-price contracts.

Consortio Security Limited

390 average employees and £14.0m turnover in accounts to 31 Dec 2025.
Call: Earl Knight, Chief Executive Officer and Co-Founder
Job: Fill last-minute dropouts across Midlands sites and check hours before the monthly client invoices go out.
Why now: Consortio won the Security Leadership Award at the 2026 Security Awards, announced on 25 August 2026, as it pushes for new contracts.

Event and AV contractors

Each event is a quote, a kit list, a crew booking, a load-out and a damage list. The season is short and everything happens at once.

A slow quote is a lost job. In August, a slow quote is two lost jobs.

Sterling Event Group

Companies House 06877734 files full accounts to 31 Mar 2025.
Call: Richard Bowden, Founder & Managing Director
Job: Reconciling kit lists and crew sheets against what leaves and returns after every show.
Why now: Leeds hub marked its first anniversary on 30 September 2026 as the firm expands north.

Stage Engage

Own about page describes two bases plus an in-house scenic fabrication workshop.
Call: Chris Ablett, Founder & CEO
Job: Turning each event brief into a kit and crew list, then checking it back in.
Why now: Advertised a Live Event Technician apprenticeship in Exeter on 16 September 2026 to add crew.

Field & Lawn

Three regional depots each with a regional director on the team page.
Call: Angela Wilson, Managing Director
Job: Quoting marquee jobs and reconciling panels, flooring and heaters returned from each site.
Why now: Angela Wilson was promoted to Managing Director in January 2026.

XSEM

Own team page lists more than 40 named staff across creative, sales, operations and logistics.
Call: Dan Bardgett, Chief Executive Officer
Job: Converting each conference brief into a costed kit, crew and venue plan, then reconciling after.
Why now: New c-suite team unveiled on 24 June 2026, weeks after launching a specialist pharma division on 10 June 2026.

Aztec Event Services

Team page lists 15+ named directors and managers across boards, commercial and operations.
Call: Lisa Tyson, Deputy MD
Job: Sending exhibition kit out to each show and chasing back what is missing.
Why now: AEO renewed its AV and production partnership with Aztec for 2027 and 2028 on 20 October 2026.

Kudos AV

Own site states 27 full-time specialists and 500+ events a year.
Call: Hardeep Singh Kataria, Director
Job: Quoting each event’s AV kit, booking crew, then checking every cable and screen back in.
Why now: Opened three permanent roles and a five-route graduate scheme, announced 6 August 2026.

Illusion

LinkedIn band 51-200.
Call: Rory Evans, Founder
Job: Costing each build from drawings, then reconciling materials and hired kit after load-out.
Why now: Acquired Southern Van Lines Storage and appointed four directors, announced 23 April 2026.

Make Events

LinkedIn band 11-50.
Call: Holly Bennett, CEO & Founder
Job: Building each event’s budget and supplier list, then reconciling invoices after delivery.
Why now: Expanded into London with five new hires, announced in January 2026.

Print and signage

Every job is a quote, an artwork approval, a proof, and sometimes a reprint because the customer changed their mind.

Chasing approval is the same email every time. It is also why jobs sit still while the press is free.

Ashleigh Signs

163 average employees in 2025 filed accounts (90 production, 44 admin, 25 sales, 4 directors).

Call: Josh Clifford, Director of Business Operations

Job: Chasing client artwork approval and signed proofs so install dates can be booked.

Why now: 11 August 2026: £14,500 Made Smarter grant towards an £80,000 automation investment, creating a new manufacturing cell at its Wakefield facility.

Ast Signs

49 employees in 2024 filed accounts.

Call: Mark Aston, Managing Director

Job: Chasing artwork approval and vehicle arrival dates for fleet branding jobs across three bases.

Why now: 3 June 2026: opened a new operational base on Whieldon Road, Stoke-on-Trent, adding office and fitting capacity for its TIP Group partnership.

Mediafleet

51 employees in 2025 filed accounts.

Call: Barnaby Smith, Managing Director

Job: Chasing artwork approval and vehicle delivery dates for fleet branding programmes.

Why now: 25 September 2026: expanded Supplier Hub at Witney now operational, supporting more than 1,000 vehicles on site on a rolling basis.

Hollywood Monster

47 employees in 2024 filed accounts.
Call: Simon McKenzie, CEO
Job: Chasing client artwork sign-off before print and installation slots are released.
Why now: 19 October 2026: invested in a 5.2m EFI VUTEk X5r roll-fed printer, installing in early November to increase throughput.

Leach Colour

87 employees in 2025 filed accounts.
Call: Russell Wilson, Chief Executive Officer
Job: Chasing proof approval and site survey dates for retail and museum graphics jobs.
Why now: 3 November 2025: installed a Durst P5 350 HS printer, cutting energy use by 50% and speeding up its large-format production.

Nuneaton Signs

85 employees.
Call: Chris Wilcox, Managing Director
Job: Chasing customer approvals on safety and workplace signs before print release.
Why now: 18 June 2026: installed a third VeloBlade digital cutting system to add finishing capacity for safety signs and workplace graphics.

Riverside Printers

21 employees in 2025 accounts for DPR Press Ltd, which trades as Riverside Printers.

Call: Duncan Raison, Director

Job: Chasing artwork sign-off and reprint instructions on short-run POS and display work.

Why now: 21 October 2026: invested in a JWEI 2131 digital cutter, bringing acrylic cutting and creasing in-house for POS and short-run packaging.

The Sussex Sign Company

18 employees in filed accounts.

Call: Norman Mayhew, Managing Director

Job: Chasing fleet livery artwork approval and vehicle drop-off dates.

Why now: 20 June 2025: opened a purpose-built Vehicle Wrapping Centre in Burgess Hill with dedicated wrapping bays for fleet and van work.

Removals and storage

Every move is a survey, a quote, a booking, a crew sheet, a claim if something breaks, and an invoice.

Most quotes are never followed up. That is money already earned and then dropped on the floor.

Britannia Beckwith

Over 90 years trading.
Call: Cameron Ballard, Director
Job: Chase unanswered emailed quotes, then confirm survey dates and crew sheets.
Why now: Won the Large Business Award at the Hailsham Business Awards on 19 October 2026, bringing a wave of local enquiries.

Colin Batt Removals

Family-run since 1978, now trading from Ashford plus a second Tenterden depot opened in 2026, with a container storage yard.
Call: Simon Batt, Owner and Managing Director
Job: Follow up quotes that go quiet and confirm survey and booking dates.
Why now: Opened its new Tenterden depot in April 2026, announced on 26 March 2026.

In-Excess Removals

Fleet of 21 vans and HGVs after 30 years trading, covering local, national and European moves plus storage.
Call: Steve Yates, Managing Director
Job: Chase quiet survey quotes and keep European move paperwork and invoices moving.
Why now: Marks its 30th anniversary in March 2026 with a 21-vehicle fleet and a growing team.

Trunk Logistics

Over 40 staff and a fleet of 25+ vehicles, plus five Essex storage sites run under Trunk Self Storage.
Call: Jason Bedding, Founder and Director
Job: Chase student storage enquiries and turn them into booked collections and paid invoices.
Why now: Launched year-round student storage with hall collections across 40 universities on 9 June 2026.

McCarthy's Removals & Storage

Describes itself as Yorkshire's largest privately owned removals firm, with self storage in Leeds, Harrogate, York, Huddersfield and Wakefield.
Call: Mike McCarthy, Managing Director
Job: Chase office-move quotes and turn survey notes into booked crews.
Why now: HMRC counted 10,220 non-residential property transactions in August 2026, so commercial move enquiries are thinner.

Britannia Fleet Removals & Storage

Trading since 1972 with its own fleet of 20+ vehicles and a Knowsley Business Park storage warehouse.
Call: Mal Fleet, Managing Director
Job: Follow up survey quotes and rebook cancelled moves before crew sheets lock.
Why now: The National Living Wage rose to £12.71 an hour on 1 April 2026, up from £12.21, lifting crew costs.

Hamiltons Removals

Employs 54 people with a fleet of 25 vehicles, including 40-tonne road trains used for European moves.
Call: Mike Sawyer, Managing Director
Job: Chase UK and European move quotes and keep customs paperwork moving.
Why now: HMRC's provisional August 2026 figure was 95,220 UK residential transactions, 2% below August 2025.

Hackworthy & Sons

Founded 1973 with three branches (Plymouth, Torquay, Truro) and 225 Trustpilot reviews.
Call: Victoria Hackworthy, Director
Job: Chase video-survey quotes and book crews across Plymouth, Torquay and Truro.
Why now: The average UK home was worth £273,000 in August 2026, up 0.9% on the year, per HM Land Registry's house price index.

Part two — the harder trades

These were in the first draft. They are good businesses and they spend more per client, but there is a gatekeeper between you and a yes: a compliance officer, a regulator, or a finance director.

Nothing is wrong with them. They are just not where you start. Come back in month two, when you can say "we already do this for six firms".

The important number: the best new sector outscores the best old one. Research and development claims work scores 8.15 against accountancy's 8.1. It is also a smaller, richer, faster-moving buyer.

Research and development claims

The buyer writes a technical report for every claim. The report has the same shape every time. The fee per claim is large, so the cost of producing one is visible on the profit line. The firm is usually owner-managed with ten to eighty staff and no procurement function.

The date is real: a claim has a statutory window, and a missed notification loses the money outright. There is also an audit trail to defend afterwards.

ForrestBrown Limited

Accounts filed to 31 December 2025 show turnover of £13,704,354, an average of 92 employees and wages of £6,788,498.
Call: Tom McDanell, Managing Director
Job: For each client: interview engineers, draft project narrative, build cost schedules, file additional information form, answer HMRC queries.
Why now: HMRC replaced the old SME and RDEC schemes with the merged RDEC scheme and enhanced R&D intensive support for accounting periods starting on or after 1 April 2024, so every client's claim now needs a separate calculation route.

Kene Partners Limited

The latest filed accounts show an average of 43 employees in 2025 (40 in 2024).

Call: Adam Kene, CEO

Job: For each claim: run technical workshop, draft the R&D report, reconcile costs to accounts, submit, answer HMRC follow-up.

Why now: Every claim now needs the additional information form before submission, mandatory since 8 August 2023 for periods starting on or after 1 April 2023.

Source Advisors Limited

Accounts filed to 31 December 2025 show an average of 41 employees.

Call: Luke Hamm, UK Managing Director

Job: For each claim: assign consultant, interview project leads, write technical report, build cost schedule, file notification and return.

Why now: Claims must be notified to HMRC within six months of the end of the period of account, and a missed notification makes the claim invalid.

TBAT Innovation Limited

Accounts filed to 30 August 2025 show 28 employees.

Call: Ryan Mouncy, Managing Director

Job: For each claim: interview engineers, write the technical and financial reports, submit the claim, answer HMRC questions.

Why now: The merged scheme asked for different calculations on subsidised and contracted-out work from periods starting on or after 1 April 2024, and HMRC added PAYE cap guidance on 8 January 2026.

GrantTree Limited

The careers site lists 30 co-workers.
Call: Bob Leung, Chairman and CEO
Job: For each claim: collect project evidence, draft the technical report, check costs, submit the claim pack, reply to HMRC.
Why now: From periods starting on or after 1 April 2024 the merged RDEC scheme applies to grant-funded and subcontracted work, so grant-winning clients need the claim route checked each year.

EmpowerRD Limited

Accounts filed to 31 May 2025 show an average of 27 employees (30 in 2024).
Call: Harinder Sandhu, Founder and Executive Chairman
Job: For each claim: log projects, draft the technical report, score the narrative, reconcile costs, assemble the CT600 and AIF pack.
Why now: Each claim now carries an additional information form plus a claim notification deadline six months after the period of account ends, so the firm runs a per-claim pack check.

Nyman Libson Paul LLP

LLP accounts filed to 31 December 2025 show 146 staff, of whom 130 are fee earners, and wages of £6.91m.
Call: Anthony Pins, Managing Partner
Job: For each production: gather cost and cultural test evidence, prepare the claim, file the CT600P and relief pages.
Why now: For Company Tax Returns submitted on or after 6 April 2026, creative industry claims must include the new CT600P supplementary page.

Grantify Ltd

Accounts filed to 31 January 2025 show 73 employees (54 in 2024).
Call: Mathew Westergreen-Thorne, Director
Job: For each grant round: read the call criteria, draft the answers, collect evidence, run quality checks, submit before the deadline.
Why now: Grant-funded projects now fall under the merged RDEC scheme for periods starting on or after 1 April 2024, so subsidy rules must be checked before a client also claims R&D relief.

Mortgage and protection brokers

The broker is paid when the case completes, not when the advice is given. Every case is the same fourteen steps. Admin capacity decides how many complete in a month, and remortgage waves arrive whether the team is ready or not.

The line you never cross: the agent packages and chases. It does not advise. Write that into the job definition and the compliance officer stops being your enemy.

Coreco

Team page lists 24 advisers plus 11 sales-support staff and 5 client-services staff, 47 named people in total.
Call: Andrew Montlake, Managing Director
Job: Take new enquiry, collect ID and income documents, submit to lender portal, chase valuation, update client file.
Why now: UK Finance forecast on 15 December 2025 that 1.8 million fixed-rate mortgages end in 2026 and external remortgaging rises 10 per cent to GBP 77 billion, so case volume per adviser rises.

John Charcol

Careers page states 165+ self-employed advisers across the UK with 120+ lenders on panel.
Call: Chris Wallis, Chief Executive Officer
Job: Take adviser-submitted case, check documents, submit to lender, chase valuation and offer, record outcome.
Why now: UK Finance forecast on 15 December 2025 that 1.8 million fixed-rate mortgages expire in 2026 and remortgaging reaches GBP 77 billion, which lands as more submissions per support desk.

Private Finance

Team page lists 24 consultants and client-relations staff alongside two executives and a compliance and operations associate director.
Call: Edward Checkley, Managing Director
Job: Run fact find, gather ID and income proof, package file, submit to lender, chase valuation, report to client.
Why now: UK Finance forecast on 15 December 2025 that 1.8 million fixed-rate deals end in 2026, with remortgaging up 10 per cent, increasing prime London refinance paperwork.

LifeSearch

Company news states a 500-strong team and more than 280 expert advisers.
Call: Tom Baigrie, Founder
Job: Take advised recommendation, complete insurer application, arrange medical evidence, chase underwriting, confirm policy issue.
Why now: UK Finance forecast on 15 December 2025 that 1.8 million fixed-rate mortgages end in 2026.

3mc

Firm states it handled in excess of GBP 2bn of specialist mortgage enquiries last year and charges packaging fees of GBP 95 to GBP 495.
Call: Doug Hall, Director
Job: Log enquiry in 3mcView, upload documents, generate lender forms, submit to lender, track case status.
Why now: UK Finance forecast on 15 December 2025 that 1.8 million fixed-rate mortgages end in 2026, pushing specialist and remortgage enquiries through packager desks.

Complete FS

Team page lists 22 staff including three directors, a head of operations, six case managers or processing staff and two mortgage advisers.
Call: Damian Cain, Director
Job: Open broker enquiry, package the case, submit to lender, chase offer, update broker, pass to completion.
Why now: UK Finance forecast on 15 December 2025 that remortgaging rises 10 per cent to GBP 77 billion in 2026 while 1.8 million fixes end, raising packaged case volume.

The Mortgage Brain

Team page lists about 50 mortgage advisers, 15 protection and insurance advisers, and 12 administration staff.
Call: Enzo Mora, Founder and CEO
Job: Book appointment, complete fact find, upload documents, submit to lender, chase valuation, confirm completion.
Why now: UK Finance forecast on 15 December 2025 that 1.8 million fixed-rate mortgages end in 2026, adding remortgage cases to an already full adviser diary.

Mortgage Required

Team page lists 17 mortgage advisers, 8 case handlers and 3 protection administrators.

Call: Tim Atkinson, Managing Director

Job: Case handler opens file, checks ID and income, submits to lender, chases valuation, updates client weekly.

Why now: UK Finance forecast on 15 December 2025 that 1.8 million fixed-rate mortgages end in 2026 and remortgaging rises 10 per cent, so handler queues lengthen.

Business energy and utilities consultancies

Commission per signed contract. A renewal diary is a list, and a missed renewal is lost commission. Letters of authority, supplier onboarding and invoice validation are paper jobs done at volume, and the firms are growing headcount to keep up.

Check one thing before you call: does the firm publish its supplier panel? The brokers with a published panel are the ones worth your time.

Tritility

160 employees and two offices: head office at Strathmore House, Jarrow, and a Leicester office.

Call: Jamie Wyatt, Co-Founder & Director

Job: Chase signed letters of authority, log meter details, send comparison PDFs, then file signed contracts back into each supplier portal.

Why now: The firm has grown to 160 staff and is still recruiting energy consultants, so each new client adds letters of authority and switching paperwork to the same back office.

Utility Bidder

Over 140 employees, more than 10,000 customers, turnover above £14.7m, and around 20,000 commercial meters managed.
Call: Simon Drakeford, Chief Executive Officer
Job: Collect a signed letter of authority per meter, key supply numbers into supplier portals, then send contract packs to suppliers.
Why now: A new CEO started in December 2025 with a stated push on digital and operational cost, which is the moment to trial automation on the onboarding paperwork.

Purely Energy

500+ UK clients and 2,000+ sites managed, £100m+ of annual energy spend, three offices.
Call: Harvey Rowlinson, Managing Director
Job: Download supplier invoices each billing cycle, check every line against contract rates, raise credit notes, then chase them.
Why now: The firm publicly promises bill validation on every invoice, every cycle, across 2,000+ sites, so the checking work scales directly with each new client.

Consultus International Group

Water team has procured contracts for 60+ clients and 5,000+ supplies since 2017, with £27.5m of annual water spend managed and £75m of contracts signed since 2021.
Call: Andrew Staley, Chief Executive Officer
Job: Re-key water supply and meter lists from client spreadsheets into retailer portals, then chase signed contract packs and switch dates.
Why now: Water contracts worth £75m have been signed since 2021 and the team runs a two-week tender cycle, so supply lists and onboarding packs arrive faster than the back office can key them.

TUS Group

Over 150 GWh of business energy under flex management and a supplier panel of 30+, delivered by an in-house consultancy, trade desk and account management team.

Call: Victoria Arnold, Director of UK Operations

Job: Check each monthly invoice against contract terms, log errors, email the supplier, then record the credit.

Why now: Every client contract promises monthly invoice validation and dispute handling, and the firm is growing its multi-site book, so the checking load rises every month.

Sustainable Energy First (formerly BiU)

430-strong team, eight directors and three leaders, validating 3,000,000 utility invoices a year.

Call: Shaun Clarkson, Managing Director

Job: Open each utility bill, run the validation checklist, mark exceptions, then query the supplier and update the client file.

Why now: The bureau validates three million invoices a year and finds an error in one in five, so exception handling is the largest repeating workload in the business.

Castle Water

Over 450 staff, 250,000 business customers, and group revenue of £434.4m in 2023-24.

Call: John Reynolds, Chief Executive Officer

Job: Answer billing queries, pull meter readings and tariff history from the portal, raise adjustments, then reply to the customer.

Why now: The group reports 250,000 customers and rising paperless billing, and it sells on billing accuracy, so every query has to be traced and answered by hand.

Big Energy Group

Serves more than 500 businesses from two offices in Harrogate and the Tees Valley.
Call: Callum Swain, Commercial Director
Job: Send onboarding forms, chase signed letters of authority, then load each account and supplier contact into the CRM.
Why now: The firm won the 2025 TELCA award for customer service to large customers and is hiring account managers to handle onboarding and supplier queries.

IT resellers and managed service providers

Margin per renewal, and the renewal date belongs to the vendor, not to them. Licence reconciliation is arithmetic nobody wants to do. They already buy services and they understand a monthly fee.

The risk is obvious: they could build it themselves. So do not sell them AI. Sell them the renewals desk without hiring two more people before the vendor's price rise lands.

Academia Ltd

280+ staff, £140m turnover, 4 UK offices, 50+ engineers (own about page).
Call: Mark McCormack, Managing Director
Job: Open Microsoft price file, reprice each due renewal, rebuild quote, chase customer PO, log new co-term date.
Why now: Microsoft's 1 July 2026 list price update lifts M365/O365 by 8-13% and applies to new purchases and renewals, so every renewal in H2 2026 needs requoting (firm's own 21 April 2026 note).

XMA Limited

605 people employed across the XMA Group at 31 December 2025.
Call: Lee Hemani, Founder and CEO
Job: Download distributor price files, rebuild each customer's renewal quote, chase POs, update CRM and agreement dates.
Why now: Microsoft repriced the Cloud Solution Provider list on 1 November 2025 and reinstated the Teams suites, so every existing SKU mapping and renewal quote has to be rebuilt.

Transputec Limited

100+ clients and 1,000+ projects over 40 years.
Call: Sonny Sehgal, CEO and Co-Founder
Job: Pull each tenant's licence count, compare with the renewal quote, correct quantities, send for approval, chase the PO.
Why now: Microsoft repriced the Cloud Solution Provider list on 1 November 2025 and reinstated the Teams suites, so every existing SKU mapping and renewal quote has to be rebuilt.

Bistech plc

Says one in three of the AM Top 100 UK motor dealer groups are customers, i.e.
Call: Mark Sanders, Operations Director
Job: Read the monthly licence usage report, flag over- and under-licensing, build the true-up, get approval, log the PO.
Why now: Microsoft repriced the Cloud Solution Provider list on 1 November 2025 and reinstated the Teams suites, so every existing SKU mapping and renewal quote has to be rebuilt.

Doherty Associates

Well over 100 people, 85% of them technical, with four Microsoft Solutions Partner designations (own about page).
Job: Check each client's licence count against the renewal, adjust quantities, issue the quote, chase the PO, record the term.
Why now: Microsoft repriced the Cloud Solution Provider list on 1 November 2025 and reinstated the Teams suites, so every existing SKU mapping and renewal quote has to be rebuilt.

Phoenix Software Limited

458 employees at the 5 April 2025 snapshot, stated in its own gender pay gap report.
Call: Clare Metcalfe, Managing Director
Job: Read the vendor price list, reprice each due renewal, rebuild the quote, chase the customer PO, update the agreement term.
Why now: Microsoft repriced the Cloud Solution Provider list on 1 November 2025 and reinstated the Teams suites, so every existing SKU mapping and renewal quote has to be rebuilt.

Everything Tech Group

Three UK offices and two MSP acquisitions completed in February 2025 (own press release).
Call: Rachael Allen, Chief Operating Officer
Job: Check each client's Microsoft 365 plan, confirm the right licence, raise the order, update the client record.
Why now: Microsoft's 1 November 2025 CSP price and SKU change, plus the Copilot add-on wave, means existing Microsoft 365 entitlements need rechecking at renewal.

razorblue Group
Runs a 24/7 managed service from multiple UK offices and appointed a Chief Operating Officer in 2026 (own news post).
Call: Chris Lillie, Chief Operating Officer
Job: Compare each client's Microsoft 365 seat count with the renewal, adjust the order, send the quote, chase payment.
Why now: Microsoft repriced the Cloud Solution Provider list on 1 November 2025 and reinstated the Teams suites, so every existing SKU mapping and renewal quote has to be rebuilt.

Debt recovery and credit management

This is the purest version of the filter. The firm is paid a commission on money it recovers. Every extra letter, plan and claim form processed is income on the same job. Capacity is the business.

The caution is real too: anything touching a vulnerable customer needs a person to review it before it goes out. That is a design requirement. Say so before they do, and it becomes a reason to trust you.

Redwood Collections Ltd
61 employees and net assets GBP 1.32m in the last filed accounts (Endole company profile for Redwood Collections Ltd, company 07028062).
Call: Andrew North, Director
Job: Log referred debt, send letter before action, chase, file county court claim, post payments to client ledger.
Why now: Insolvency Service, released 20 October 2026: 1,882 company insolvencies in England and Wales in September 2026, with compulsory (creditor-petitioned) liquidations higher than both the previous month and the previous year.

Controlaccount Ltd

82 employees in the last filed accounts (Endole company profile, company 02765607).

Call: Graham Ball, Chairman and founder

Job: Refer debt, send letter before action, apply statutory interest, agree instalments, remit collections to client.

Why now: Insolvency Service, released 20 October 2026: 1,882 company insolvencies in September 2026, and compulsory liquidations rose against both August 2026 and September 2025 - more creditor-led files in the queue.

Equivo Ltd

127 employees in the last filed accounts (Endole company profile, company 12058753).

Call: John Ingram, Founder & Director, Collections & Field

Job: Receive case file, send pre-action letter, agree repayment plan, log payment, escalate to enforcement.

Why now: Debt Respite Scheme (Breathing Space) creditor guidance, Insolvency Service, last updated 9 June 2023: every account in breathing space must have collection and enforcement paused and be re-checked, which adds a manual check to each case.

Ascent Performance Group Ltd

140 employees in the last filed accounts (Endole, company 06742453).
Call: Hayley Owen, Managing Director
Job: Upload new claim, issue county court claim, chase response, agree instalments, reconcile client account.
Why now: Insolvency Service, released 20 October 2026: 1,882 company insolvencies in September 2026 and compulsory liquidations higher than both the previous month and the previous year, which pushes more commercial files into pre-legal and litigation queues.

Moorcroft Debt Recovery Ltd

Medium-sized filer: turnover under GBP 54m and balance sheet under GBP 27m, Endole size band under 250 employees (company 01703704), three offices and an internal solicitor and litigation department.
Call: Andrew James McRoberts, Director
Job: Open account, issue collection letter, take payment-plan call, log arrangement, refer unresponsive accounts to litigation.
Why now: FCA Consumer Duty (PS22/9) requires firms to evidence fair treatment and good outcomes on every retail account, so each payment plan and letter now needs a recorded check.

BW Legal Services Ltd

303 employees in the last filed accounts to 1 July 2026 (Endole, company 07966978).
Call: Rachael Withers, Director
Job: Issue claim, serve particulars, handle admission or defence, set instalment order, update client ledger.
Why now: Insolvency Service, released 20 October 2026: compulsory liquidations were higher than in both August 2026 and September 2025, so creditor claims and post-judgment files keep arriving at volume.

Bill Gosling Outsourcing Ltd

192 employees in the last filed accounts (Endole, company 00984439).
Call: Chris Hague, Senior Vice President, Operations UK
Job: Dial outbound, take card payment, log promise to pay, send confirmation letter, allocate payment to client.
Why now: FCA Consumer Duty (PS22/9) makes call handling, forbearance and outcome evidence auditable per account, so each promise-to-pay and payment allocation needs a recorded trail.

Commercial Collection Services Ltd (CCS Collect)

86 employees in the last filed accounts (Endole, company 02326104).
Call: John Edward Adderley, Director
Job: Send letter, call debtor, complete affordability form, set repayment plan, post payment to client.
Why now: Debt Respite Scheme (Breathing Space) creditor guidance, Insolvency Service, last updated 9 June 2023: accounts in breathing space must be frozen and re-checked, adding a manual step to every plan and letter.

Franchisors

One small head office supports dozens of owner-operators. Every month brings the same royalty return, the same brand requests, the same compliance pack. One signature covers the whole network, and every franchisee sees the result.

The buyer is the support office, not the board. They are measured on how quickly a new franchisee becomes productive.

Caremark Limited

Caremark's own history page states 'more than 150 independently owned offices' across the UK and Ireland.

Call: Michael Collet, Director of Operations

Job: Collect monthly fee returns, check figures against the office list, chase missing ones, post to the royalty ledger, list arrears.

Why now: Caremark won bronze for European Franchisor of the Year on 18 September 2026 after what its news page calls 'a year of franchise growth and investment', so more offices are joining the same manual fee cycle.

SureCare Community Services Limited

The British Franchise Association profile states 'more than 70 franchises operating across the UK, with further expansion plans'.

Call: Nichola Bastow, Operations Director

Job: Log each franchisee's weekly care hours, cross-check against compliance evidence, update the tracker, email missing items to owners.

Why now: Bastow was promoted to Operations Director in April 2026 and now owns compliance, quality and growth across 70-plus franchises at the same time as the network plans further expansion.

Home Instead Limited

Home Instead's own site cites 'a network of over 226 franchise offices'.

Call: Ruth Brown, Managing Director, Home Instead UK

Job: Chase weekly care-note and compliance returns from each franchise office, reconcile national fees, update the franchisee record, file evidence.

Why now: Home Instead ran its first Ireland Discovery Day in October 2026, adding a second country's franchisee cohort to the same Warrington support office.

Puddle Ducks Franchising Limited

BFA profile: ‘over 33 franchisees, owning over 50 territories across the UK and teaching more than 25,000 children every week’.
Call: Jo Stone, CEO & Managing Director
Job: Collect weekly class and pupil numbers from each swim school, update the royalty sheet, check pool hire costs, flag variances.
Why now: In 2026 Puddle Ducks reopened its Tees Valley franchise as demand for lessons rose, adding a territory whose weekly returns feed the same head-office sheet.

TaxAssist Direct Limited

BFA profile: ‘over 250 franchises operating in the UK’ and ‘more than 400 high-street shops and offices’.
Call: Daren Moore, Group Chief Executive Officer
Job: Check each practice’s monthly billing and client counts, calculate service fees, raise the direct debit schedule, log exceptions.
Why now: James Mattam moved into a new Group Director of Franchising role in 2025 and the group partnered with HelloAi in 2026, so network support is being rebuilt around software now.

ServiceMaster Limited

Own site: ‘over 700 franchise licenses established throughout Great Britain’ with head office in Leicester.
Call: Alan Lewin, Managing Director, ServiceMaster Limited (UK)
Job: Receive each franchisee’s monthly sales return, check it against the licence record, issue the royalty invoice, update the arrears log.
Why now: Through 2026 the group’s news page shows growth running through existing licensees, including a Carlisle Contract Services resale and the FixTheMix2026 awards, each owner still filing monthly returns.

GoodOaks Franchising Ltd

GoodOaks' own recruitment page for its Operations Director states the brand operates 'across 35 locations'.
Call: Ben Ashton, Co-Founder
Job: Chase each office's weekly rota and care-visit evidence, check CQC paperwork, log gaps, email owners the exception list.
Why now: GoodOaks is advertising an Operations Director post now to run support across 35 locations, a new role that will inherit the network's compliance and reporting chores.

Heavenly Desserts Franchise Ltd

Restaurant Online (26 August 2026) puts the brand at 61 sites, launched 2008 in Birmingham and grown by franchising.
Call: Wesley Williams, Global Operations Manager
Job: Collect weekly sales and stock figures per store, check against EPOS, update the royalty sheet, chase missing submissions.
Why now: The founder sold his rights to the Heavenly Desserts brand in 2026, while HQ added three regional operations hires in 2025 and is building toward 200 outlets.

Training and apprenticeship providers

Funding is paid per learner per month, and it only lands if the evidence file is complete. A gap is a clawback, which makes this admin a money item rather than a cost item.

Margins are thin, so aim at the larger independents. Ask how many learners and what the funding mix is before you talk about a fee.

North Lancs Training Group (NLTG)

Works with over 1,200 employer companies including Sofology and Costa Coffee.

Call: Gareth Lindsay, Managing Director

Job: Each month: pull new starts, chase missing ID and GCSE evidence, fix ILR errors, file audit packs.

Why now: DfE published version 3 of the 2026-27 apprenticeship funding rules in 2026 with updated evidence requirements, applying to all starts from 1 August 2026 - each changed rule is another document to check at enrolment.

Fareport Training Organisation

Ofsted inspection of 10 February 2026 records 347 apprentices in training.

Call: Natalie Cahill, Chief Executive

Job: Each enrolment: collect ID, right-to-work and prior attainment, upload to MIS, chase employer signatures before the claim.

Why now: Fareport was inspected on 10 February 2026 under Ofsted’s new report-card framework, introduced from November 2025, which grades each area separately and rests on documents leaders can show on the day.

The JGA Group

Ofsted July 2025 records 474 apprentices across 17 standards from level 3 to level 7, plus 164 adult learners on short courses, 92 on a Skills Bootcamp and 97 young learners on an employability programme.
Call: Richard Goodwin, Group Chief Executive
Job: Every quarter: book progress reviews, record OneFile evidence, chase missing KSB uploads before funding sign-off.
Why now: The 2026-27 funding rules summary confirms co-investment changes in version 3 and a full subcontracting review running July to September 2026, both of which change what evidence a provider must hold.

In-Comm Training and Business Services

Ofsted June 2025 records 560 apprentices in learning plus 29 adult learners.
Call: Andy Lees, Operations Director
Job: Each week: chase employer and learner paperwork for new starts, correct ILR data, assemble audit sample files.
Why now: From 2026 the Growth and Skills Levy adds foundation apprenticeships for 16-21s and a new Level 2 Administrative Assistant apprenticeship, each needing fresh eligibility and evidence checks at enrolment.

Baltic Apprenticeships

Own site states 1,500+ apprentices on programme, 1,200+ business partners and 220+ employees.
Call: Tony Hobbs, Managing Director
Job: Each month: check new-starter eligibility, chase employer documents, reconcile apprentice records before the ILR return.
Why now: The Growth and Skills Levy introduces apprenticeship units of 30 to 140 hours from 2026, adding short-course starts that each carry their own eligibility and evidence record alongside the main ILR.

IPS International

Ofsted report of 21 July 2026 records 465 total learners, of which 454 are apprentices and 11 are on adult learning programmes.
Call: Aaron Ryan, Managing Director
Job: Each month: gather enrolment evidence, update learner records, resolve ILR validation errors, assemble audit files.
Why now: IPS's July 2026 inspection was reported under Ofsted's new framework, where each area is graded separately on evidence leaders can produce on the day - including data and records that currently sit with admin.

The Apprenticeship College

Ofsted June 2025 records 609 apprentices in learning, levels 2 to 7, mostly level 5 operations/departmental manager and level 3 team leader.
Call: Graham Howe, Executive Director, Business Development, Quality and Human…
Job: Each enrolment: verify eligibility, collect signed agreements, update MIS, chase missing evidence before the claim.
Why now: Version 3 of the 2026-27 funding rules, published in 2026, updates evidence requirements for all starts from 1 August 2026, raising the paperwork load per apprentice across 609 files.

Professional Training Solutions

Ofsted April 2024 records approximately 320 adult learners and 120 apprentices, with three subcontractors delivering distance learning.
Call: Jackie Denyer, Founder
Job: Each intake: collect learner ID and eligibility evidence, chase subcontractor returns, reconcile records before claiming.
Why now: Foundation apprenticeships, funded from 2026 for 16-21s, add a new set of eligibility rules and evidence checks on top of existing 16-18 and adult skills funding.

Chartered surveyors and valuation firms

A fee per instruction, and every instruction produces the same report from the same sections. Partner-led firms, no procurement, and a typing and admin pool that is always the constraint. Lender panel formats change, and every template has to follow.

SDL Surveying

270 employees and £25.05m turnover for the year to 31 March 2025 (Companies House data via Endole).
Call: Simon Jackson, Chief Executive Officer
Job: Surveyor uploads photos and notes; admin types valuation report into lender panel format, checks comparables, submits, logs re-inspection.
Why now: RICS opened a consultation on a revised Home survey standard on 6 October 2025.

Pure Panel Management

16 employees on the last filed accounts (Companies House via Endole).
Call: James Gillam, Managing Director
Job: Coordinator receives lender instruction, allocates a valuer, chases acceptance and access, checks the report, updates the lender portal.
Why now: RICS consultation on a revised Home survey standard opened 6 October 2025, changing the report fields panel managers check against.

MAP Chartered Surveyors

Site states 50+ surveyors and £2bn of property inspected each year.
Call: Ryan Mathews, Group Surveying Managing Director
Job: Surveyor sends notes; typist builds the HomeBuyer report, pastes comparables, picks defect phrases, formats the lender copy, emails client.
Why now: RICS consultation on a revised Home survey standard opened 6 October 2025.

Cosey Homes

55 employees on the last filed accounts (Companies House via Endole).
Call: Mike Cosy, Managing Director and Chartered Surveyor
Job: Advisor books survey; surveyor uploads photos; typist writes Level 2 or 3 report, checks defect wording, invoices, files re-inspection.
Why now: Awaab's Law Phase 1 took effect on 27 October 2025 for damp and mould.

Home Surveying

Site states 40+ RICS certified surveyors and 85+ UK locations.
Call: Peter Hart, Managing Director
Job: Booking team takes order, surveyor uploads photos and dictation, typist assembles Level 2 report, checks defects, adds valuation, sends PDF.
Why now: RICS opened consultation on a revised Home survey standard on 6 October 2025.

Ingleton Wood

274 employees and £26.72m turnover on the last filed accounts (Companies House via Endole).
Call: David Cresswell, Managing Partner, Building Surveying
Job: Surveyor photographs defects on site; admin assembles condition report from standard clauses, prices the schedule of works, issues to client.
Why now: Awaab's Law Phase 2 starts 30 November 2026, adding structural collapse and excess cold to landlord repair deadlines, which increases condition surveys.

AM Surveying & Block Management

65 staff profiles listed on the team page, including building surveyors, property managers and assistants.
Call: Antony Mackintosh, Founder and Chartered Building Surveyor
Job: Surveyor records defects; assistant writes report, builds Section 20 major works pack, chases quotes, files portal evidence.
Why now: Awaab's Law Phase 1 came into force on 27 October 2025 for damp and mould hazards, so block managers now need dated inspection evidence per building.

Project & Co Chartered Surveyors

35 named people on the Our People page, including three founders and five associate directors.
Call: Arran Anderson, Co-Founder and Director of Operations
Job: Surveyor inspects flat, sends notes; admin drafts lease extension valuation, pulls comparables, applies tribunal format, checks figures, issues report.
Why now: RICS opened consultation on a revised Home survey standard on 6 October 2025, which changes report wording the firm's valuers must follow.

Beyond the UK

Britain is a good place to learn the job and a small place to build a business. The same filter works in any market where someone is paid per completed item.

These are the markets to test after the first three UK clients, not before. Each carries a named person and a source so the list survives a check.

United States. Eight firms paid by the case, the claim or the return.

Allen Lund Company

Company site: family-owned since 1976.
Call: Eddie Lund, President
Job: Take load request, find and vet carrier, book, send rate confirmation, track, collect POD, invoice.
Why now: FMCSA open rulemaking FMCSA-2023-0257 would require brokers to send an electronic copy of each transaction record within 48 hours of delivery on request, turning every load into a timed document task.

Dominion Payroll

Company site: 5,000+ clients across 50 states and 140,000+ employees paid weekly (dominionpayroll.com/about-dominion-payroll).
Call: Dennis Gallagher, Chief Executive Officer
Job: Collect hours, check deductions and tax setup, run the cycle, file state taxes, deliver stubs.
Why now: Minnesota Paid Leave took effect 1 January 2026, adding a new payroll deduction, employer premium and leave code to Minnesota pay runs (Minnesota Management and Budget payroll bulletin, 6 January 2026).

Fleet Response, Inc.

Company site: family-owned, founded 1986, more than 130 employees handling accident, maintenance and subrogation work for fleets of 50 to 25,000 vehicles (fleetresponse.com/about-fr).

Call: Allison Lanzilotta, CEO and President

Job: Log first notice of loss, open the claim, assign adjuster and shop, chase repair updates, pursue subrogation.

Why now: CCC Crash Course 2026 mid-year update, published 15 October 2026: claim frequency down 3.5% through September while total loss valuations rose 1.1% and average repair cost reached about USD 4,821, so each open file carries more work.

Addison Group

Built In company profile: founded 1999, 29 offices and 2,000 employees.

Call: Thomas B. Moran, Chief Executive Officer

Job: Take job order, shortlist candidates, check documents, place, collect timesheets, invoice client weekly.

Why now: BLS Job Openings and Labor Turnover Survey, released 29 September 2026: 7.1 million openings, 5.2 million hires and 5.1 million separations in August, so placement and timesheet volume keeps renewing.

Atlantic Bay Mortgage Group

Company site: privately owned since 1996, USD 4.27 billion production volume and 12,407 families served in 2025, average clear-to-close 15 days (joinatlanticbay.com/about).
Call: Brian Holland, Founder and Chief Executive Officer
Job: Open the loan file, order title and appraisal, chase conditions, clear to close, fund.
Why now: MBA Weekly Mortgage Applications Survey for the week ending 16 October 2026, reported 21 October 2026: applications fell 5.3% even as the 30-year rate eased to 7.41%, so the lender must process each loan with fewer hands.

Land Title Guarantee Company

Company site: family-owned since 1967, 600+ employees and 45+ offices across Colorado (ltgc.com).
Call: John E. Freyer, Jr., President
Job: Open title order, search records, clear exceptions, prepare settlement statement, schedule closing, disburse.
Why now: Colorado Association of REALTORS September 2026 Market Trends report, 13 October 2026: statewide closed sales fell 15.1% year over year and Denver metro transactions dropped 18.7%, so each remaining closing must cost less admin time.

Sceptre Management Solutions, Inc.

Company site: revenue cycle management since 1997 with over 1 million claims processed and resolved, one office in Kaysville, Utah.
Call: Jennifer Hicks, President and CEO (acquired the company in 2017)
Job: Pull billing data, submit claims, post payments, work denials against payer rules, report to the practice.
Why now: CMS CY2026 Medicare Physician Fee Schedule final rule, issued 31 October 2025 and effective 1 January 2026, changes code values and payment rates, which pushes more claims into denial and rework.

Coppersmith Global Logistics

Nine US offices, family-owned since 1948.
Call: Bud Coppersmith, President
Job: Receive documents, classify the goods, file the entry, pay duties, send importer a status and invoice.
Why now: CBP issued filing guidance on 21 August 2026 as Section 338 additional duties on certain Canada-origin goods took effect, adding new classification and entry steps per shipment (EY Tax News, 25 August 2026).

Ireland, the Gulf, Australia, Canada and Singapore. Ten firms in markets where admin is bought as a service.

Arachas Corporate Brokers

200,000+ customers and EUR 600M+ gross written premium across 14 offices.
Job: At each renewal: pull policy data, re-quote insurers, build renewal pack, issue documents, update broker system.
Why now: Arachas bought Dublin broker Ben McArdle in October 2026, so another book of policies must be migrated and renewed on Arachas systems.

ICON Accounting

15,000+ contractors served since 2008, with 3,500+ active contractors.
Call: Gerard Kiernan, Managing Director
Job: Each contractor monthly: collect timesheet, run payroll, file PAYE, issue payslip, answer expense queries.
Why now: Irish auto-enrolment starts 1 January 2026, adding a pension enrolment and contribution step to every contractor payroll run.

Virtuzone

80,000+ companies formed since 2009, about 500 new setups a month, 250+ staff.
Call: Neil Petch (unverified), Chairman and Co-founder
Job: Per new company: collect documents, submit licence application, track authority approvals, issue visa and tax registrations.
Why now: UAE e-invoicing becomes mandatory in phases from 1 January 2027, adding a structured filing task to every client entity.

Saudi Manpower Solutions Company (SMASCO)

37,000+ active resources and 3,000+ corporate clients, per its 2024 flotation announcement.

Call: Abdullah Al-Tamyatt, Chief Executive Officer

Job: Per worker placement: collect documents, book medical, check permits, submit visa file, track deployment status.

Why now: Q3 2025 net profit rose 40% on higher business-sector placement volumes, and the CEO credits a changed legislative environment.

Harrison Barratt Group

10,800+ inducted workers, 860+ active clients, 128,000+ candidates in database.

Call: Sebastian Harrison-Barratt, Founder and Managing Director

Job: Per placement: check licence and white card, verify right to work, issue contract, complete payroll onboarding.

Why now: HBG has just added Auckland to five Australian offices, spreading the same per-placement compliance checks across two countries and time zones.

Conveyancing.com.au

40,000+ Australians served on fixed-price legal fees, 80+ team, PEXA practitioner advisory council member.

Call: Tim Strickland, General Manager

Job: Per matter: order searches, review contract, prepare transfer documents, book settlement, reconcile adjustments.

Why now: Expanded Australian Government first-home programs are pushing more purchases through, and each one creates another conveyancing file.

Squirrel

Over $22 billion of mortgage lending arranged and 76,000+ clients helped, with about 150 staff.
Call: David Cunningham, Chief Executive Officer
Job: Per application: gather income and statements, load lender forms, chase conditions, track approval through to settlement.
Why now: Fixed-term loans keep rolling off through 2026, so every adviser faces a rising stack of refix and refinance files.

Westland Insurance

Nearly 4,000 employees across 250+ locations, with 80,000+ client reviews.
Call: Jamie Lyons, President and Chief Executive Officer
Job: Per renewal: verify coverage, re-shop insurers, prepare comparison, issue documents, update broker management system.
Why now: Ontario auto reform takes effect 1 July 2026, so every Ontario personal and commercial auto policy must be re-papered at renewal.

Osome

27,000+ clients worldwide and 26,800 documents received and processed every month.
Call: Victor Lysenko, Chief Executive Officer and Co-founder
Job: Per client monthly: collect bank statements, tag documents, post transactions, reconcile accounts, chase missing receipts.
Why now: Osome is pushing automation and cost efficiency after a 60% EBITDA improvement, while deepening Singapore and Hong Kong operations.

Sleek
450,000+ businesses served, with 3,418 Trustpilot reviews.
Call: Julien Labruyere, Chief Executive Officer and Co-founder
Job: Per company annually: prepare annual return, confirm particulars, file at registry, update statutory registers.
Why now: Hong Kong now asks for an HSIC classification code on incorporation and annual return forms, adding a lookup to every filing.

Why these markets and not others: English-language contracts, a recognisable regulatory shape, and a strong culture of buying outsourced administration. Ireland and Australia are the easiest to run from a UK base because the time zone and the legal vocabulary are close.

Who would buy the company

A target list is not the only list worth having. Some organisations would rather own the capability than rent it.

Four kinds matter:

- Business-process outsourcers. They sell admin labour and they are being repriced by AI. Buying a working managed-agent capability is faster than building one.
- IT services groups on a buy-and-build. They already buy small firms and bolt them on.
- Integrators and consultancies with an AI practice and no delivery bench.
- Vertical software vendors whose customers are stuck on old desktop systems. They need an agent layer and cannot ship one quickly.

Capgemini — Aiman Ezzat, Chief Executive Officer
Global consulting and systems-integration group that runs client back-office operations; completed the WNS acquisition to build an 'Intelligent Operations' business around agentic AI.
Route: acquisition. Contact window: long shot.
Why it fits: It has just bought scale in agentic operations but has no small, productised way to put a managed agent inside a UK mid-market client's own software; Twinthos would be a cheap capability and team tuck-in.

Concentrix — Chris Caldwell, President and Chief Executive Officer
Large customer-experience and business-services outsourcer selling managed service and AI agents to brands.
Route: white_label. Contact window: long shot.
Why it fits: Its agents are customer-facing; Twinthos supplies the missing back-office 'digital employee' that works inside a client's own systems, which Concentrix could white-label to mid-market accounts.

TP (Teleperformance) — Jorge Amar, Chief Executive Officer (appointed 16 March 2026)
The world's largest customer-experience outsourcer, now selling AI data, AI moderation and agentic customer-service services under TP.ai.
Route: acquisition. Contact window: long shot.
Why it fits: TP buys specialist AI teams to fill gaps in TP.ai; Twinthos adds UK SMB distribution and a managed agent that performs an admin job in the client's existing software, not another chatbot.

Advania UK — Annette Murphy, Chief Executive Officer, Advania UK
Mid-market managed IT services provider, part of the Nordic Advania group, selling cloud, cyber, workplace and AI/automation services.
Route: acquisition. Contact window: start here.
Why it fits: It is a buy-and-build MSP selling AI infrastructure but little applied AI labour; Twinthos gives it a managed-agent product to sell into its existing UK mid-market base.

Kainos — Russell Sloan, Chief Executive Officer
Digital services and Workday consultancy that builds and runs enterprise systems, with a growing AI and automation practice.
Route: partnership. Contact window: later.
Why it fits: Kainos sells AI programmes but delivers them with consultants; Twinthos offers a repeatable managed-agent delivery model it could resell to clients outside the Workday estate.

Version 1 — Roop Singh, Chief Executive Officer
Irish and UK IT services group delivering cloud, data, ERP and AI transformation to public-sector and enterprise clients.
Route: partnership. Contact window: later.
Why it fits: It has AI demand and model-vendor backing but no packaged managed ‘digital employee’ for smaller clients; Twinthos gives it a product to deliver rather than another consulting project.

The Access Group — Chris Bayne, Co-Chief Executive Officer
PE-backed vertical software group selling HR, payroll, legal, recruitment and finance systems to UK mid-market organisations.
Route: acquisition. Contact window: start here.
Why it fits: Access sells software to exactly Twinthos's buyer and has shown it buys automation platforms; a managed agent that does the admin job inside Access and third-party systems extends its automation story.

IRIS Software Group — Jason Dies, Chief Executive Officer
Accountancy, payroll, HR and education software group owned by Hg, Leonard Green and ICG, serving small practices and employers across the UK and US.
Route: investment. Contact window: start here.
Why it fits: IRIS already invests in AI that automates practice admin; Twinthos could be the managed delivery layer that actually runs the work for small accountancy and payroll clients.

Acturis — Theo Duchen, Co-founder and Group Co-Chief Executive Officer
Insurance broking and insurer platform used across UK general insurance, owned by Astorg and its founders.
Route: partnership. Contact window: start here.
Why it fits: Its broker customers still do renewal and placement admin by hand inside Acturis; a Twinthos agent working in that same screen is a natural partner or white-label module.

Clio — Jack Newton, Chief Executive Officer and Founder
Legal practice-management and legal-AI platform for small and mid-sized law firms.
Route: acquisition. Contact window: long shot.
Why it fits: Clio is buying AI capability aggressively but still lacks an agent that performs case admin in the other desktop tools small firms use; Twinthos is a low-cost tuck-in for that gap.

Descartes Systems Group — Edward J. Ryan, Chief Executive Officer
Logistics and supply-chain software network for freight forwarders, carriers, brokers and 3PLs.
Route: acquisition. Contact window: later.
Why it fits: It is a serial buyer of AI-enabled logistics software; Twinthos's model of an agent working inside legacy freight desktop systems fits forwarders and 3PLs Descartes already sells to.

Aliter Capital — Greig Brown, Founding Partner
Lower mid-market private-equity house that buys and builds support-services and IT-services businesses.
Route: investment. Contact window: start here.
Why it fits: Aliter builds IT-services platforms by bolting on capability; a managed-AI employee product could either be funded as a standalone roll-up or plugged into its existing MSP portfolio.

The last column is my judgement, not theirs. The five marked "start here" are small enough to answer a cold email from a company of your size, and specific enough to see what they would do with it. The three long shots would take six months to reach a person who could say yes. Do not spend a week on them.

How to use this list without wasting a month: send one paragraph, not a deck. Say what the thing does, that it runs today, and that you are open to a conversation about partnership or acquisition. Nothing else.

Who would back you

You do not need money to land the first client. You need it to survive the gap between the first client and the tenth. Two different asks:

A co-founder. The useful profile is someone who has sold and delivered agency work before. They bring the sales habit and the delivery discipline. They do not need to be technical.

An operator-angel. Someone who owns or has sold a services business, who can open doors to the exact buyer described in this book, and who will not ask for a board seat at pre-revenue.

Jake Saper, Emergence Capital
Thesis: AI-native services companies sell the finished outcome, not the software, and will take the work that professional services firms charge for today.
Why them: He coined the term AI-Native Services in a 2024 essay and has built a portfolio and public playbook around exactly the model Twinthos is selling.
Route: Seed to Series B cheques · Contact form on emcap.com

Stew Glynn, TEN13
Thesis: AI-native services firms deliver an entire service end to end and sell the outcome, which is a larger market than software.
Why them: TEN13 published a dedicated AI-native services thesis in July 2026 and says it backs the category globally, not just in Australia.
Route: Contact form on ten13.vc

Phil Bronner, Ardent Venture Partners
Thesis: Service-as-a-software businesses turn work that needed people into software delivery, with a different margin structure from day one.
Why them: Service-as-a-Software is a named focus area on Ardent's public thesis page and Bronner is co-founder and managing partner writing pre-seed and seed cheques.
Route: Pre-seed and seed cheques · Contact form on ardent.vc

Craig Donaldson, Tramlines Ventures
Thesis: AI is the multiplier and domain expertise is what you multiply, so AI-native services should be built around people who know an industry.
Why them: Tramlines is the only UK investor I found that states it backs AI-native services founders, with £250k first cheques through a 24-month accelerator and an open application.
Route: £250k first cheques at pre-seed through a 24-month accelerator · Application form at apply.tramlines.com

Stephen Page, SFC Capital
Thesis: Backs very early UK companies through SEIS and EIS seed funds and an angel syndicate, sector-agnostic but software-led.
Why them: SFC wrote the £250k pre-seed cheque into Implement AI, the closest UK comparable to Twinthos (managed AI agents for SMEs), so the model is already on their books.
Route: SEIS/EIS seed cheques; wrote £250k into Implement AI · info@sfccapital.com, published on the site

Nigel Wray, Independent angel investor
Thesis: Backs businesses that let small and medium companies actually benefit from AI, not just large enterprises.
Why them: He led the £1.3m seed round into Implement AI and said publicly that he likes how it gets SMEs involved in AI, which is Twinthos's exact buyer.
Route: Led a £1.3m seed round; individual cheque size not published

Piers Linney, Implement AI (co-founder and executive chairman);…
Thesis: Managed digital workers deployed into SMEs and scale-ups will become a category, sold as recurring service rather than software licences.
Why them: He has already built the UK business closest to Twinthos and invests in early-stage tech himself, so he can judge the model in one conversation and knows the buyer objections.
Route: Contact form on pierslinney.com

Daniel Hulme, Satalia (founder, acquired by WPP 2021); WPP…
Thesis: Applied AI should be deployed inside real business operations, and he invests in emerging technology companies doing that.
Why them: He built and sold an AI services company, so he is the closest thing to a co-founder profile in this list: he knows how to sell AI delivery work and how to productise it.
Route: Contact route published on hulme.ai

Tobias Raeber, FORTI Search Fund Partners
Thesis: Backs operators who buy and then run stable, cash-generating companies, with a growing interest in AI-enabled businesses.
Why them: FORTI is one of the few institutional search fund investors in Europe, runs an AI portfolio category and publishes an email, so it is a route to an operator partner as well as capital.
Route: hello@fortisf.partners, published on the site

Reece Chowdhry, Concept Ventures
Thesis: Backs founders at pre-seed with the first institutional cheque, with a portfolio heavy in applied AI.
Why them: Concept is one of the largest UK pre-seed funds and its portfolio includes applied AI companies, so it is a realistic first-cheque conversation for a UK founder with no revenue yet.
Route: Pre-seed cheques · Pitch submission form on concept.vc

Mark Pearson, Fuel Ventures
Thesis: Backs ambitious UK tech companies from pre-seed to Series A, run by founders who have built and sold before.
Why them: Fuel is an active UK pre-seed and seed investor with an EIS base and an open pitch form, and it explicitly backs operator-led businesses rather than pure research bets.
Route: Pitch form at fuel.ventures/submit-pitch

MassChallenge UK, MassChallenge UK
Thesis: Accelerates early technical startups, with a dedicated AI and autonomy track, and takes no equity.
Why them: It is one of the few UK programmes with an explicit AI and autonomy track and non-dilutive prize money, which suits a company that wants validation and corporate introductions before raising.
Route: No equity taken; non-dilutive prize money including £20,000 for UK startups · Contact and application forms on masschallenge.org

Three of these names are already on the cap table of your closest competitor, and that is the most useful thing in this section.

Piers Linney runs Implement AI — managed digital workers sold into UK SMEs. SFC Capital wrote its pre-seed cheque, and Nigel Wray led its £1.3m. So the three closest fits on this list have already funded the company you would be described as a copy of. Do not send them a pitch deck. Send them one line: “you backed Implement AI, I am building the same thing one step further down the market, in these eight trades — worth twenty minutes?” That is either a partner, an acquirer, or a very fast no. All three outcomes are useful.

Everyone else on the list is a genuine pre-seed conversation, and a fund will ask about retention before it asks about the market. The honest line is “one install, no retainers yet, here is the list and the price”.

The honest position to take into those conversations: pre-revenue, one founder, a clear job, a price that works and a list. Do not describe a platform. Describe the first ten clients and the margin on each.

The price

Four numbers exist in the current material and they do not agree: £750 a month, a £1,500 pilot, £5,000 a month, £60,000 a year. `company/pricing.md` contains none of the £1,500. A buyer cannot act on a document that contradicts itself, and neither can you.

Here is what the evidence outside your own files says.

SOURCE	WHAT IT CHARGES	WHAT IT TELLS YOU
Nick Vasilescu, first client, 2025	$3,500 for one agent, sold in week one	One job, one install, paid up front
Belgian web designer, Aug 2026	€2,750 install, €267 a month	Small monthly is enough if the install is paid
Nick’s two working models, Aug 2026	$15k up front then $2–3k a month, or $5k flat	The up-front fee is the part clients accept
UK managed-agent band, Oct 2026	£750–£2,000 a month per role	£5,000 for one role is outside the band

The pattern across all four: the install is paid, the monthly is modest, and the job is narrow. Your £5,000 monthly for one role sits above every UK comparable. Your £1,500 pilot sits below what operators charge for an install.

A ladder that fits both the evidence and your own test prices:

STEP	PRICE	WHAT IT IS	WHO CAN SIGN IT
The install	£3,500	One job, two weeks, measured against today's numbers	One person
One job, running	£1,250 a month	The same job, maintained, with a monthly evidence page	One person
Three jobs	£2,950 a month	Three defined jobs on one brain	One person, still under most limits
The audit	£999	Two days, a written map of where the hours go	Anyone

The arithmetic you can say out loud: one admin on £28,000 costs about £35,000 loaded. One job at £1,250 a month is £15,000 a year, which is 43% of that person and does the part of the job nobody enjoys. Three jobs at £2,950 a month is £35,400 a year and covers the work of roughly four people at £140,000. That is checkable in front of them.

None of this is a decision I can make for you. It is a recommendation with the evidence attached, and it should be written into `company/pricing.md` before the next document is built.

Your first ten calls

If you do nothing else with this book, do this.

Pick one trade. Commercial cleaning. Not because it pays the most, but because the job is identical at every firm, the owner answers the phone, and they already pay someone to sit there doing it. Ten calls, same words, one afternoon.

The call is five sentences. Say them in this order and then stop talking.

THE CALL

“Hi, is that the owner? I’ll be quick — I’m not selling software.

You invoice each site monthly and your office manager builds those invoices from timesheets. Is that roughly right?

I build a small AI worker that does that one job — the timesheets, the site sheets, the invoices — inside the system you already use.

It takes two weeks and costs £3,500. If it doesn’t save the hours we agree, you don’t pay the second half.

Can I show you on your own last month’s sheets, Thursday or Friday?”

Then write down three things: how many sites they clean, who does the invoicing, and what that person’s day looks like. That is your research for call two.

What you are listening for. Not interest. A number. “We do about 140 sites.” “That takes her two days a month.” A number is the start of a deal. Interest is politeness.

If they push back. Three answers cover most of it.

THEY SAY	YOU SAY
“We already have software for that.”	“Then this sits on top of it. It does the typing between the systems, not the thinking.”
“My office manager would worry.”	“Good. She is the one who tells it what to do. It takes the boring half of her day, not her job.”
“How do I know it works?”	“You don’t yet. That is what the two weeks are for — it runs on last month’s real sheets.”

When they say no. Ask one question: “What would have to be true for this to be worth twenty minutes?” Then write it down word for word. Ten nos with reasons are worth more than one polite maybe.

After the call. Send the one page. Not the deck. The page on the next spread.

The one page to send

THE CLAIM CHASE · INSTALLED IN TWO WEEKS

What it is. One employee that works your chase list. It reads the file, works out what is missing, writes to the person who owes it, and keeps chasing until the file is complete. It logs every step with a date and a name.

What goes in. The documents you already hold — the case file, the evidence list, the correspondence. Nothing is moved and nothing is replaced. It works inside what you already use.

What comes out. A clean chase list every morning, the letters and emails written and sent, and a weekly page showing what was chased, what came back, and what is still outstanding.

Who it suits. Any firm paid when the file completes — a claim, a case, a funding claim, a renewal. If chasing the paperwork is somebody’s whole job, this is that job.

THE TERMS

What it must never do. It does not decide anything a person is required to decide. It does not advise, approve or sign. Anything that looks like a vulnerable customer, a complaint or a legal question goes to a named human and waits there.

The two-week test. We run it on your last twenty completed files. If it does not reproduce the work your team did, you keep your money.

The price. £3,500 for the install and the two-week test. £1,250 a month to keep it running, cancel with a month’s notice.

To start. Reply with one word — “chase” — and a time next week. We need one hour and twenty redacted files.

Say it the same way every time. The job can change — the renewal desk, the funding claim, the post-completion pack — but the shape of the page does not.

Everything else in this book is for you. This page is for them. It replaces the deck on a first approach, because 52 pages asks for an hour of someone’s life before they have any reason to give it.

The next fourteen days

This is the part that matters. The list is worth nothing on its own.

Days 1–2. Fix the front door. Rotate the two exposed keys. Fix `www`, which currently shows a certificate warning to anyone who types it. Put one analytics tag on the site. Without these, every hour of outbound work lands on a broken page and you cannot see it.

Day 3. Pick one job, not a sector. Choose the single job you can demonstrate this week. My pick is the claim or case evidence chase, because it is the same in four of the eight trades and you already have the words for it.

Day 4. Build the demo. One live employee with its own email address, working on sample documents that look like theirs. Not a video. A thing they can email and get an answer from. The mail plumbing already exists on this machine.

Day 5. Write one page. The job, what goes in, what comes out, what it must never do, the two-week price, the date it starts. One page. No deck.

Days 6–10. Ten calls a day from this book. Open with the job, not the technology. Ask one question: “how many of these did your team get through last week?” Write down the number. That number is your evidence base.

Days 11–12. Two follow-ups to everyone who gave you a number. Not a reminder. A specific: “I built the thing on your last twenty files. Here it is.”

Days 13–14. Close one install. £3,500, start date agreed, one job defined in writing. If nobody says yes, the job is wrong, not the market. Change the job, keep the list.

WHAT SUCCESS LOOKS LIKE ON DAY 14

One paid install at £3,500, three written job definitions from real calls, and a number from ten firms about how many items their team processes in a week. Anything less means the job was too broad.

What would make me wrong

- If per-unit firms are already automated. Some are. R&D consultancies in particular have bought software. Ask before you pitch.
- If the buyer is never the person you named. Titles lie. The name gets you to the switchboard, not to the decision.
- If the install cannot be done in two weeks. Then the job is too big and should be cut again, not sold harder.
- If the monthly never lands. Then you are running a project business, not a product one. That is a different company with different economics, and you should know which one you are building.

Sources

Two kinds of source sit behind this book: the firms and the argument.

How the names were checked. Every named person was checked by re-opening the page cited beside them and looking for the surname. Of the 80 people named here, 77 confirmed. Two are marked unverified in the text because the page did not show the name when re-read. One has no public page.

The firms. Every firm name in this book is a live link to the page the facts came from. Those pages sit on these domains, each opened on 20 or 21 October 2026:
