Twenty-four firms to call

New names in the three sectors that pay fastest for a managed digital employee. 9 of them have a dated reason to call this week.

FIRMS, ALL NEW	PEOPLE NAMED	WITH A LIVE TRIGGER	CITATIONS CHECKED

Accountancy 15 · Recruitment 4 · Freight 5 — £699m of accountancy fee income and £903m of recruitment and freight turnover between them.

What this is, and what was checked

Candidates come from two published league tables: the Accountancy Age Top 50+50 (2025 fee income, partner counts, growth) and the Companies House league tables on koraso.com (turnover from the latest filed accounts, refreshed 23 October 2026). Nothing here is drawn from the existing 114-firm register.

Every named person is taken from the firm's own site or a dated article about their appointment, then re-fetched and checked for the surname. 23 of 24 confirmed by a scripted re-fetch; the 24th sits behind a page that blocks scripted requests and was confirmed from a rendered extract of the same article.

A dated trigger is recorded only where a page states one. Where the row says no trigger, the job is still real — there is simply nothing fresh to hang the opening line on.

How the score is built

Sector base from `probability-ranking.json`: accountancy 8.1, recruitment 8.0, freight 7.7. Add +0.6 for fee growth above 50%, +0.4 for 25–50%, +0.2 for 10–25%, −0.2 if shrinking. Add +0.7 where a dated trigger exists. Subtract 2.0 where the decision has moved to a parent. Capped at 10, floor 3.

What was not verified

- The pain is inferred, not quoted. No client of these firms has publicly described the queue: the job is what the billing model forces, and the first call is the test.
- Office lists are printed only where a contact page exposes postcodes. Five rows say “not confirmed from a scriptable page” because the firm renders addresses into an image or a map. That is not evidence of one office.
- Simon Massey’s tenure at Menzies dates from a November 2021 appointment notice. Confirm he is still managing partner before using his name in an opening line.
- Nuvo names two leaders in the same coverage: Ben Knapp as managing director, Steve Sharp as founder and chief executive. Ask which one owns process.
- Kreston Reeves is not a sale. It joined AAB in 2026, so the budget moved. It is here to point at AAB’s integration work, which is why it scores 6.8.
- Ordered pairs of the same name were checked, not the whole page: a citation confirms the person is on the page, never that they still hold the role.

The next five calls

- Nuvo Accountancy — Steve Sharp. Four practice acquisitions, each one re-onboarding the client book.
- AAB — Emma Lancaster. Two acquisitions in 2026; the integration queue is the offer.
- Gravita — Lisa Mayhew. Chief executive since February 2026, already reviewing how the practice runs.
- Sanctuary Personnel — Kathryn Fox-Rogers, chief customer officer. Compliance files per placement, and the customer side is now her job.
- Pro-Force — Matt Jarrett. Seasonal onboarding at volume, with the 2026 season already being planned in their own blog.
