TWINTHOS · TARGET LIST · OCTOBER 2026

Recruitment agencies.

Named companies. Real signals. The maths that gets you past £5,000 a month.

The highest labour density I could find.

14

hours per recruiter, per week, lost to manual tasks that have nothing to do with placing anyone.

Admin per vacancy	17.7 hrs
UK recruitment firms	30,035
Bristol firms	425

Totaljobs survey of 748 HR leaders (People Management, Aug 2025); RISR 2022; Firmbase May 2026.

Thirty consultants, one contract.

LINE	VALUE

Hours recovered each, per week	6
Hours per year	9,000
Loaded cost per hour	£25

MONTHLY

£4,700 a month from one agency. Three of those is £170,000 a year.

£25/hour assumes £45,000 loaded cost over 1,800 hours. Your estimate, not a published figure.

Tier one — start here.

COMPANY	WHY THEM
Method Resourcing Bristol · 11–50 staff	Tech, data and AI desks. Small enough that the founder answers.
Boston Rose Bristol · founded 2006 · 11–50	Established, owner-run, no corporate procurement.
Heat Recruitment Bristol · specialist desks	Six sectors means six sets of duplicated admin.

Tier two — multi-branch groups.

GROUP	FOOTPRINT
Berry Recruitment	200+ specialists, privately owned
Acorn by Synergie	30+ branches and on-site locations
The Recruitment Group	8 branches nationwide

One contract, many seats. Pilot at one branch, then roll out. This is the only route to a six-figure single client for a one-person company.

DO NOT START HERE

Sanderson Solutions Group — 470 staff, ~$629m revenue. Procurement will eat you before you get a meeting.

Read their job adverts.

An agency hiring a resourcer, administrator or data entry clerk is telling you exactly which task it cannot keep up with.

> “Recruitment Administrator — CV formatting, posting adverts, updating the CRM.”

That advert is your proposal, written by them, for free.

THE SCRAPE

Indeed and Reed: “recruitment administrator”, 30 miles of Bristol. Note the duties listed. Every duty is a line item you can price.

Sell the CV pack, not the robot.

Every agency reformats the same CV into a client's template, then uploads it to a portal. Same job, every day, for every candidate.

1. Candidate sends a CV in any format.
2. It must become their branded template.
3. Then be posted to three job boards and their CRM.

Nobody gets promoted for doing this well. Nobody would miss it. And if it goes wrong, it is embarrassing — not illegal.

What “big” really takes.

A 15-person Bristol agency pays £2,000–£4,000 a month. Real money, not life-changing.

Six figures needs one of two things: three small agencies, or one multi-branch group.

Both take longer than 90 days. The small ones fund you while you chase the group.

SEQUENCE

One small agency at £1,500 to build proof. Two more at £3,000. Then the group, with a case study.

ONE THING

They are not buying AI. They are buying a Friday back.

Six hours a week, thirty consultants, every week of the year. Price that, not the software.
